As a single mom, you might think God has forgotten about you or turned His back the other way. You'll love Pam Kanaly's story of when she was a single mother, the "God who sees" unexpectedly revealed His presence by her bedside one night.

1. Read Genesis 16:1-14. Describe what Hagar may have felt when she fled from Sarai in the desert.
2. What circumstances in your own life have produced similar emotions?
3. We first learn of God as "a God who sees" when He seeks out a single mother. How does it make you feel? Circle the words that apply.

comforted	encouraged	shirked	valued
indifferent	reassured	apathetic	optimistic
reassured	significant	consoled	unmoved

4. Rewrite 2 Corinthians 16:9 in your own words including application to your own situation. Circle the key words.

5. What do these verses say about our two-way relationship with the God who sees?

	If I do this...	He will do this...
Matthew 6:3-4
Psalm 50:15
James 4:8

6. Write a prayer of thanksgiving to God, including a request for someone you love.

7. What is God telling you?

---

Father, I am comforted that You see what is going on in my life right now and the fears that keep me awake at night. If You see and You say that I can call to You and I am helped, then I choose to rest in that truth. Even now You are testing my faith and building in me a dependence that relies on Your character over what "I see." Lord, give me strength to find JOY that You are fully in control and that I can trust in You. Amen
